Drenching Rains Tuesday Fails To Dampen Spirit Of 114th Exposition

by Alis Anthony

YELLOW SPRINGS—Heigh Ho! Come to the Fair!

Greene County's 114th annual fair got well under way Tuesday at the Xenia fairgrounds despite drenching afternoon rains. The colorful midway teems with varied exhibits, concessions, amusements and merchant displays, while background buildings house 4-H, Future Farmers of America, Boy and Girl Scout and Grange exhibits, and animals.

L. T. Constable has a number of oil paintings on display in the Home Arts bldg. He spends his vacations painting at county fairs each year, and has produced as many as 55 oil paintings in one day. Mr. Constable maintains that his only secret is the board on which he mixes his colors.

Speaking of paintings, The Home Arts bldg. display also features a mural approximately two or three yards long, which depicts a typical scene along the Ohio river. Super-imposed on the mural is a musical scale of the first several measures of "Beautiful Ohio."

A feature of the antique exhibit in the Home Arts bldg. is a surrey-shaped baby buggy in use back in 1878. Also, an old "State of Ohio Agricultural Science Award to Jackson Ballard for a prize filly under three and over two years of age" is on display, together with Confederate two-dollar bill, baby high chairs over 100 years old, antique china, pewter and glassware, combs used to dress the hair and an old gold watch on a chain also comprise the exhibit.

Miniature models of early automobiles and a wooden caricature of an early train, plus tiny wooden furniture and ships in oblong bottles are also being shown in the Home Arts bldg.

Other items in the same building include quilts, dollies, handpainted linens, and needlepoint and embroidery work. A Xenia music company has a display of instruments.

Bill Nickoson Home On Leave

YELLOW SPRINGS—Home until Sunday is Cpl. Ralph William "Bill" Nickoson, who arrived late Tuesday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Nickoson on King St.

Twenty-two year old Bill will leave for a tour of overseas duty after reporting at Fort Bragg, N. C., on Sunday. A member of the Army Reserve Corps, he re-entered the service last March 8, when he was stationed at Fort Meade Md.

Glen Cafe Closed

YELLOW SPRINGS—Service in the Glen Cafe on Xenia Ave. will resume on Aug. 15. The restaurant was closed last Monday to give employees a vacation.

sheet music and records, and is giving two daily concerts during the fair — at 4 and 7 p.m.

Floral tapestry is a feature of the 1953 Sesquicentennial booth, as is a recent (completed this year) oil of the Greene County Court House by Arthur Robeson Steadman. Old-time pictures are hung in the display, and heirloom scrapbooks and hand-drawn rugs also are on exhibit.

The Future Farmers of America are displaying grains, fruits and vegetables in addition to several specimens of field corn, some as high as 14 feet. Various Girl Scouts and Grange groups of the county are showing floral, food and textile displays.

The Conservation of Insects Workers display, in the 4-H category, includes mounted pheasants, butterflies, tree identification specimens and stones, in a booth appropriately decorated with evergreen branches. The Girl Scouts also have a display of bird conservation activities, including bird feeders, and other 4-H showings include clothing, matching bedspread and curtain, food displays, and outdoor grill.

No fair is complete without a good cross-section of livestock, which has been entered in the Greene County Fair this year, as in the past. Several breeds of chickens, ducks, turkeys and geese comprise the poultry show, while in the rabbit division, Himalayan, Albino, American Chinchilla and New Zealand Reds are represented. Mixed herds of sheep and cattle also are shown.

All modern dental equipment is contained in the Ohio Department shown at the fair under the auspices of the Greene County Health Department. The trailer is used for dental checkups and surveys of rural areas where dental care is scarce. The trailer also has X-ray facilities and is able to do some corrective dental work. In most instances, however, results of dental checkups are sent to the parents of the children examined, and are referred to private dentists. Poster work in the trailer has been done by Miss Shirley Crutcheff of Whiting, Ind., post graduate of public health nursing of Indiana University, and Mrs. Sylvia Hites, a senior in the Ohio State College of Nursing.

Ohio animals in their natural habitat make up the Ohio Department of Natural Resources display. Squirrels, foxes, raccoons, muskrats, pigs, snakes, black bears, chipmunks, deer, barred and barn owls, fish, quail and pheasant may be seen in the exhibit.

The Ohio State Department of Highways also has an exhibit, which consists of maps, charts, pictures of state road construction and completed Buckeye highways, and a itemization of the highway dollar.

The diversified fair also has pony rides as a treat for small fry.

YS Softball Club Loses Out In ASA Tournament, But Wins 13 Inning Thriller On Friday Night

YELLOW SPRINGS—The local softball club gave a good account of themselves in the 1953 Greene County ASA double elimination Softball Tournament despite the fact that they were eliminated by the Wright-Patterson Field crew, 9-2 Wednesday evening.

After losing the first game to the Cedarville Progressive Club last Thursday, 5-0 the locals dropped into the loser's bracket but still had high hopes of coping the tourney especially after winning two straight in this bracket, the first July 31 from South Charleston — a 13 inning affair that they will be talking about for a long time — and the other from Xenia Leahy's Monday night, 8-1.

In last Thursday's game the locals were handcuffed with only two hits by Scott of Cedarville. Jordan slammed a double in the second and Morgan doubled in the 7th, but neither one could reach home plate.

The winners scored their five runs in the third inning on five big hits. Wakely and Zeller hurled for Yellow Springs, allowing only 7 hits between them.

Thirty-six strikeouts highlighted Friday's 13-inning, 2-1 victory over South Charleston. Zeller of YS struck out 20 and Cunningham of the losers whiffed 16 to provide some real thrills for the large crowd. The winners scored one run in the second and the winning run in the 13th as the result of Ichiba's double, a single by Dolwick and a long fly ball by Grote.

While the locals hit safely nine times and South Charleston had five bingles, all hits were widely scattered and there was only one inning when more than one hit was collected. This was when YS pushed the winning tally over in the 13th.

Alert infield play by the winners in the 8th and 9th innings resulted in double plays that nipped potential South Charleston rallies.

All in all, this 13-inning nip-and-tuck, "old-time softball game" rates as one of the best of the entire tourney, according to many of the spectators.

Wakely was the winning pitcher in Monday's win over Leahy's. Morgan, Shinkle and Ichiba were the big guns for the locals, collecting seven of the 11-hit total. Xenia was limited to only 8 hits by Wakely, who added to his strikeout total by whiffing 10. Yellow Springs had its big inning in the 3rd when six runs were scored on 6 hits, 2 errors, 1 walk, a stolen base by Ichiba.

Some folks want security more than opportunity . . . Seems they are more afraid of life than death.

MR. REPUBLICAN

Ohio and the Nation mourned the recent death of the man known both here and internationally as "Mr. Republican," U. S. Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio. The Republican Senate leader will long be remembered as the foremost exponent of conservative republicanism during this century. Three times a serious candidate for the Presidency of the United States Taft was more a statesman than a politician. His integrity, ability and honesty provide all present and future public servants with a goal hard to attain. He will be sorely missed by all.

Money Maker For Government

By anybody's yardstick, General Motors is big business with a capital B. Its 1952 sales amounted to $7,547,154,419. The story of what happened to this money gives a cross section view of America's social and economic life. It demonstrates the malicious inaccuracy of the common charge that big business is necessarily bad.

In the first place, the company provided jobs for 458,680 workers to whom it paid $2,020,536,713 in salaries and wages. Government took a huge chunk of GM income—a total of $1,107,000,000 in taxes, which was over half the amount paid to employees.

Thousands of large and small companies supplying materials of all kinds received 48½ cents of each GM dollar. With 487,624 stockholder-owners General Motors is in the truest sense a publicly owned enterprise. In return for the use of their savings, which made the business possible, these stockholders received 4 3/4 cents of each income dollar, or a total of $361,969,352; one third of the government's tax profit.

It would be a sad day for the American people and the United States treasury if such companies as this were ever forced from the roles of free competitive enterprise.

Are You Getting Yours?

Are you wondering why, in spite of staggering taxes, the deficit and the national debt keep going up and up?

If so, you might consider a book which is being advertised by a leading publisher. It is entitled "How to Get It From The Government." According to the advertisements, it "tells all about the hundreds of benefits and services provided by your government. You never dreamed you could get so much help from your government in so many ways. All kinds of benefits and services are yours for the asking." A subhead reads: "Are you getting your share of these billions of dollars?"

No criticism is implied of the publisher and author of this book, who have a perfect right to sell as many copies as they can. But the fact that such a work is possible shows how sickeningly far we have strayed from the ideals which built America and which made America's independence and freedom possible.

"Creeping Socialism" Gets Jolt

All who believe in private enterprise, all who abhor socialism and the menace of evermore-authoritative government, will approve of the action taken by the House of Representatives on a bill authorizing a $400,000,000 hydroelectric development on the Niagara River by five taxpaying, publicly-regulated electric companies.

The House voted approval of the bill, by 262 to 120. It rejected various qualifying amendments, and a proposal providing for New York State development as a substitute for private enterprise development.

If the Senate follows the wise action of the House, it will mean that needed new power will be produced quickly and economically; that it will be sold to consumers at publicly-regulated rates, and that heavy taxes will be paid. And, most important of all, it will mean that the "creeping socialism" of which President Eisenhower recently spoke, will suffer a major defeat.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR Mixed Economy?

August 3, 1953

In your editorial, "Strange Attitude," you say, "No country can long exist half socialist and half free . . . One must be victorious; one must be defeated and destroyed."

Permit me to point out that every healthy society is a mixture of social and private enterprise. In the case of America we have the public schools, public roads and streets, the Post Office, the Police and Fire Departments, the state and national parks, and the state universities, to mention only a few.

Every one of these institutions and many more which we take for granted, are socialist from the ground up. Yet they are essential to our freedom and well-being. Nor do they cramp free enterprise. Private schools and colleges flourish by the hundreds. Private autos, trucks and buses swarm on our socialized highways, and our socialized parks give to our people the freedom to enjoy the forests, lakes and mountains.

As conditions change, new problems arise and new ways must be found to solve them. The early pioneers needed no state parks. A rural "horse-drawn" people needed no super highways or traffic lights. Human freedom and well-being is not served by denouncing blindly everything that is socialist and by treating private enterprise as a sacred cow. Likewise it is foolish to suggest that everything be socialized. Freedom and well-being lie in the middle way.

Is it not wiser and more realistic to recognize that we are living in a mixed economy and to face frankly the values and dangers inherent in BOTH socialism and private enterprise? Let's not "creep" into socialism or anything else but stand on our hind legs and face issues open-mindedly, and discuss without prejudice the best way of handling the problems of our times.

Clerk Granted Leave

JAMESTOWN — The Jamestown town council met Monday night in regular session. Although called for 7:30, the meeting officially opened later as a group of councilmen first toured the town by car to inspect streets and repair work.

It was announced that state auditors are in town and are engaged in the process of auditing the village books at this time.

J. H. Talbot, councilman, acted as mayor due to Mayor Smith's absence.

Town Clerk Dean Sessler, after reading minutes of the previous meeting, reviewed the police regulations as recorded at that meeting in order that the village would have a permanent record thereof. Copies of the regulations were mailed Marshall Howard Wright and officers Charles Hauser and Sam Entsminger for their records also.

Several small claims were read and allowed by council. Only large item was the $477.95 claim presented by the R. J. Johnson Construction Co. for curb repairs.

After some discussion, council recommended a rule should be incorporated in the general plan being drawn up whereby street workmen would be guaranteed a minimum of forty hours work per week, with extra hours as required, upon recommendation of the mayor.

Weeds left uncut by some property owners came in for some discussion also, along with minor grading and maintenance items. It was noted that some property owners are continuing to burn and dump trash on some streets and along curbs, which is against town ordinance.

Before adjourning, clerk Sessler explained the necessity for his expected two week's absence during which time he will go to New York. Councilman Arthur English was named by council to serve as clerk during Mr. Sessler's absence.

Shortly before final adjournment another of the series of foggings was laid down over the village, and it was noted that due to atmospheric conditions the fog tended to stay put for a longer period of time with expected good results.

SEVERE STORM AT JAMESTOWN

Fire Department Makes Two Runs

Rain-whipped by a driving wind of gale proportions — finally came to Jamestown last Saturday afternoon, following one of the worst electrical storms ever to hit here.

Lightning struck and set fire to a large barn just outside town on the Herb Smith property, Charleston Pike. The Jamestown-Silvercreek Twp. Fire Department made the run in a downpour of rain and was able to save a nearby shed in spite of its proximity to the fiercely burning barn.

Loss has not yet been estimated but is expected to run high since much machinery, grinding equipment, and a late model truck were destroyed by the fire which consumed all of the barn save the foundation.

Lasting over an hour and a half, the wind and rainstorm filled the town main intersection with water which threatened to flood some stores. Traffic was at a standstill, while pedestrians were conspicuous by their absence.

Some power and telephone lines went down, but power stayed on.

A tree blew down on Xenia street and had to be hauled away, while many large branches and debris were strewn elsewhere all over town. Several windows were reported broken by the wind. The clock at the Methodist church which had just been repaired was reported struck by lightning, but no fire resulted.

Just as townsmen were collecting themselves and firemen cleaning up from the first run, neighbors noted the watertower of the B. & O. railroad had been struck by lightning and its roof set afire. Again the truck went out.

Firemen were all set to extinguish this one but had to have a B. & O. freight train flagged down since hose were laid across the track. The lightning was found to have split the center post which braces the water tower. The smoldering roof proved stubborn but after some stout climbing and efficient work the fire was out, the freight train sent on its way, and the fire truck returned to the firehouse to dry out.

Minor other damage was reported all over Jamestown in the wake of what some described as the most severe to strike here in many years. No injuries were reported.

Cedarville A S A Tourney

Two teams were eliminated in the Amateur Softball Association Tournament at Cedarville Community Park Friday night as Yellow Springs posted a 2-1 win over South Charleston to score a 13th inning victory in the opener. The nightcap saw Cedarville AC oust the Xenia Eagles 7-4.

The first game found Yellow Springs counting a single tally in the second inning and saw Charleston tie it up in the fourth. From that point on Joe Zellars for Yellow Springs and Sherm Cunningham for the losers were locked in a pitching battle.

Two hits and two errors produced an unearned run in the top of the 13th to give the victory to Yellow Springs. Shortstop Sam Ichiba opened with a sharp single to center but a bad bounce caused the center fielder to bobble the ball momentarily and Ichiba took second, Jack Grote followed with a ground single to left field and again a bad bounce and slow fielding entered in as Ichiba came home to score what proved to be the winning run.

Zellars fanned 20 batsmen and Cunningham 16 opponents during the extended contest.

The nightcap saw Cedarville AC count with four runs in the first inning to coast to an easy win over the Xenia Eagles. Chet Jones went all the way for the winners with John Jones behind the plate. Russ Brown hurled for the Eagles with Luke Roberts behind the bat.

Saturday night Leahey's Shamrocks will meet Ben's Cleaners of Fairborn in the opener with Bill Trout and Gil Glatter doing the chucking. In the nightcap, Wright-Patterson Welfare will go against the Jamestown Nine. Summary:

'Antony and Cleopatra' To Run Next Week At Antioch Theatre

Shakespeare's magnificent tragedy, called the "least tragic of his tragedies," will be staged next week by the Antioch Area Theatre with two Yellow Springs residents in the lead roles.

Merideth Dallas of the college faculty, following his great success last week as Aaron the Moor in "Titus Andronicus" will be cast as Mark Antony, and Dorothy Laming famed, for her portrayals of beautiful women, will take the role of Egypt's famous and scheming queen, Cleopatra.

The show will be given on the Area Theatre's outdoor stage at 8 p.m., Wednesday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday under the direction of Arthur Lithgow. A repeat performance of "Timon of Athens" is scheduled for 8 p.m., next Thursday and "Julius Caesar" will be repeated that week at the Sunday matinee at 3 p.m.

Supporting roles in this lavish production have gone to Bernard Diamond, one of the Theatre's versatile newcomers, who will play Octavius Caesar, the Roman triumvir.

Jack Bittner, another newcomer, will follow his successes of the season, with the choice role of Enobarbus, friend and cohort to Antony.

Climax of the season, "Antony and Cleopatra" introduces the three weeks of the unique Grand Repertoire, Aug. 17 through Sept. 6, when all seven plays are repeated each week. Finale of the summer-long Festival, the Grand Repertoire brings visitors to Yellow Springs from throughout the entire country.

Reservations should be made well in advance for both this week's "Julius Caesar" and next week's "Cleopatra" as well as for any performances during the Repertoire weeks.

Blue And White Station Gets New Paint Job

YELLOW SPRINGS — "At the familiar blue and white Pure Oil sign" — that phrase you've heard over radio and TV — took on a brighter hue locally this past week as Yellow Springs Pure dealer, the C. and L. Service Station, sported a brand spanking new paint job, the work of handy-man, L. R. Loe.

By the way — speaking of the C. and L. Service — Is your license number 335 S T? 'Cause, if it is you're in luck. Drive right down to the station and pick up your free ten gallons of gas and a free lube job. If you aren't lucky this week then keep an eye on the C. and L. service ad in each week's issue of the AMERICAN. Can't tell, next week, it might be your license number.

Bahnsen Studio Supplies Pictures For Cincinnati Sunday Enquirer Story

YELLOW SPRINGS — Readers of last Sunday's tabloid section of the Cincinnati Enquirer undoubtedly either read the story "Straw Hat Shakespeare" by E. B. Radcliffe, or glanced at the pictures, or both.

But the chances are that Yellow Springs residents, and other Ohioans, for that matter, did more than glance at the pictures, since they were the work of Mrs. Elinor Mahsen and Marvin Blosser. Mrs. Bahnsen operates the Bahnsen Studio of Photography at 117 Glen St., in Yellow Springs, and is assisted by Mr. Blosser, an Iowan who has been in Yellow Springs since 1948.

The pictures included single and group action shots from this season's "Shakespeare Under the Stars" given by the Antioch Area Theatre. They plays represented were "Troilus and Cressida," "Coriolanus," "Pericles," "Timon of Athens," and "Titus Andronicus."
